EXECUTIVE ACHIEVEMENT SYSTEM
COMMUNITY ACTION GUIDE

“When you innovate, you’ve got to be prepared for everyone telling you you’re nuts.”

- Larry Ellison

NEXTWORLDLEADER has its roots in positivity and elite education. We have added this special bonus as a way to empower our unique community to become more focused and successful going into 2021. Goal setting is the beginning of true achievement. It all starts with the vision and knowing that you can achieve.

The subconscious mind is like a heat-seeking missile. If you lock your mind in on a target, it will find a way of hitting that target.

LEVELS OF THOUGHT

Conscious –

This level of thought is one that determines all thoughts and actions within our human experience. For example, the beauty and pleasure of the scent of a yellow rose.

Subconscious –

This level of thought is one that determines all reactions and automatic actions we can become cognizant of if we meditate and focus on them. In an exact example, our capability to ride a bike: once we get skilled we stop thinking which gears to use, how to use pedals to push, yet can always become aware of what was done once we think about it.

Unconscious –

This level of thought is one that determines all past events and past memories, though at times unattainable to us no matter how hard we try to recall to bring things up. For example, do you remember the first or few words we've learned to say, or how it felt to be able to walk by yourselves.

“A goal is not always meant to be reached, it often serves simply as something to aim at.” – Bruce Lee

You are where you are and what you are today because of your habitual thinking. This means the thoughts that brought you here are not the same thoughts that will take you to where you want to go.

This exercise is one to empower you to make yourself better. You will be able to take that energy and assist and enhance others. The reason most people fail to reach their goals is that they can't see them.

Most people are stuck in other people's worlds and know more about people on television than themselves. This is an unfortunate reality for most especially in the United States are suck in a reality of other people and their reality shows.

These reality show drunken drones walk around with ambiguous, blurred, ill-defined targets that are not true goals, but simply visionless wishes without a real concrete execution plan. Saying to yourself, "I just want to get more and make more business and money" is not enough. It's not enough to say, "I want to buy a big new mansion or a cutting edge new Lamborghini or to travel the world."

"I have nothing in common with lazy people who blame others for their lack of success. Great things come from hard work and perseverance. No excuses." - Kobe Bryant

COMMUNITY ACTION GUIDE

Everything begins with a thought. Many do not know how powerful thoughts are. How you think controls your consciousness.

Your subconscious needs tangible goals that are clear-cut, explicit, measurable, and time-bound to go to work for you. What kind of endeavor are you creating? How are you going to plan the scale? How large do you want to build it? By when will you plan to have it finished? "I want to build my business" is a wish. We cannot create the next big empire on daydreaming with no proposal for execution "I plan on building a an online magazine with monthly subscribers paying $10-a-month for subscribers, 10,000 of them, by the end of this year." Now that's an exact goal that is clear-cut, explicit, measurable, and time-bound. Do you see the contrasting difference between the analogy?

"Impossible is just a word thrown around by small men who find it easier to live in the world they've been given than to explore the power they have to change it. Impossible is not a fact. It's an opinion. Impossible is potential. Impossible is temporary. Impossible is nothing." – Muhammad Ali

KEYS TO THE CHALLENGE:

THOUGHTS -> FEELINGS -> WORDS -> ACTIONS

Think about it. Using this framework, you will be able to create a blueprint for success. Practice gratitude while putting this together and it will come back to you ten fold. Everything happens for a reason and you are reading this sentence right now to take you to the next level of your life. You are the inspiration of CHOICE. You choose to feel like you are going to take yourself to the next level, but it all starts with your initial THOUGHT.

After having the thought, you can feel yourself having the success. Words form the movement after you feel that thought. After you speak it into the universe with your words, then true action can start. Wake up with and before the Sun and rest when it sets. Try to step outside of your box and create your new energy and wavelength with this challenge. Your intuition brought you to this program. Allow your intuition that brought you to this document take you to completing the plan that you have for yourself and see it through to its completion. Do not allow others to jump in the way of your intention that brought you here.

“Never give up. Today is hard, tomorrow will be worse, but the day after tomorrow will be sunshine.” - Jack Ma

COMMUNITY ACTION GUIDE

For the 90-day challenge, you're going to set
One Major NextWorldLeader Goal that you would like to achieve by the end of the challenge.

“You don't learn to walk by following the rules. You learn by doing, and falling over.” - Richard Branson you're going to break that aspiration down into Eight Landmark Breakthroughs (or supporting goals) on which your MAJOR Supremely Planned Goal will be built.

THE BREAKDOWN

Next on the execution list, you should classify 3 irresistible reasons for achieving each one. From each one of those points, your 90 Day NextWorldLeader Blueprint will appear more real.

You will write your ultimate script to your success that will catapult you over these next 12 weeks. Utilizing our unique community to help with accountability will make the process even better. People follow through more when there are points for accountability and action.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____

“The people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world are the ones who do.” - Steve Jobs

Next, you're going to sign an agreement that you will actualize and accomplish your desired overarching goal. If you desire, you can share your strategy and pledge with the rest of the community. In that case, we will all share in your journey as you make action happen and achieve your daily goals with the other members of the community. At the end of the 90-day NextWorldLeader Challenge, we will all vote on the citizen that has been the most committed to having secured the biggest achievement.

Do you think that might help hold you accountable to executing what you put out? Hell Yeah!

If you are ready to make major changes to conquer this next year and competing in the 90-day NextWorldLeader Challenge, your fellow citizens will need to know your ground zero. Please describe your existing business/concept that you want to enhance briefly in the below box. When breaking this down, be clear with our community where you are today, so they can see how far your goal will advance you.

You can skip this and go to the next field if you are using this guide in private.

“Our goals can only be reached through a vehicle of a plan, in which we must fervently believe, and upon which we must vigorously act. There is no other route to success.” —Pablo Picasso

Let's get started:

Step 1 — Type your 90 Day NextWorldLeader Goal for (Yourself or Your Business) in the below field. Please remember, clear-cut, explicit, measurable, and time-bound. (For the sake of the challenge, time-bound means approximately 90-days from today. All citizens will be judged on the date indicated in the member's area.)

Achieving any worthwhile goal demands sacrifice and self-discipline. Without strong reasons for achieving your goal, you will buckle under the pressure of achieving it.

“If you want to be happy, set a goal that commands your thoughts, liberates your energy and inspires your hopes.” —Andrew Carnegie

List three essential and substantial reasons for wanting to achieve the goal you've listed above in the field below.

Justification

“If you want to be happy, set a goal that commands your thoughts, liberates your energy and inspires your hopes.” —Andrew Carnegie

Let's get started:

Step 2 — Now, please take your overarching goal and split it into Eight Landmark Breakthroughs or Milestones. For example, if your goal is to go from zero to $11,000 a month in recurring monthly revenues as a business owner, coach, consultant, or freelancer during the 90-day NextWorldLeader challenge, you will articulate the key points using the framework below. What are the 8 best things you will need to put in place in order to do that?

Will you need a targeted list, website or landing page?

Will you need a lead generation magnet?

Will you need a paid product? Will you need a defined service?

Will you need a partner?

Will you need an assistant?

Figure out specifically what you will need (the 8 biggest building blocks that will support your overarching objective), define them by measure, and set a deadline for when each one will need to be in place.

Achieving any worthwhile goal demands sacrifice and self-discipline. Without strong reasons for achieving your goal, you will buckle under the pressure of achieving it.

“By recording your dreams and goals on paper, you set in motion the process of becoming the person you most want to be. Put your future in good hands—your own.” —Mark Victor Hansen

This document is your contract with yourself. This may change the way your life is lived moving forward if you really commit to executing your plan. The only thing that must remain static throughout the 90-day NextWorldLeader Challenge is your over-arching goal. Please think carefully about your supporting essential and substantial goals. Do your planning and preparation going. Seek help, guidance and mentorship if needed. Take the deadlines you set for these milestones very seriously. It's expected you may have to shift course or redefine your milestones along the way. Just realize that while course adjustments are the nature of achievement, they are not an excuse for laziness or poor planning.

Justify your supporting objectives. List three reasons why this intermediary goal is necessary and important. Plot a solid course toward your destination.

“Everyone sees what you appear to be, few experience what you really are.” — Niccolò Machiavelli, The Prince

Why Eight Landmark Breakthroughs or milestones?

Focus is the major key to making sure that your milestones are accomplished. Having eight goals helps keep the focus where the opportunity is best. The reality is there will be hundreds of tasks that will need to be completed on your way to your goal. They do not need to be defined before you begin. Chunking to eight helps you to visualize the road ahead and plan out the big picture. You can use the same process to break each milestone down into its component parts, but you will only report and be judged on the big five listed in this worksheet if you choose to compete in the 90-day NextWorldLeader Challenge.

Step 4 – Commit to Your Goal Sign and date the following document:

“I hereby commit with all of my heart and soul that I will [insert clear-cut, explicit, measurable, and time-bound goal here]

No matter the excuse or obstacle that arises. I will focus on clear-cut, explicit, measurable and time bound results with an determined and tireless work ethic and will continue to push forward until success is achieved. I will plan exhaustively, act decisively, and take total responsibility for the outcome. I will eat, live, and breathe this objective until it is completed, starting today.”

Signature: _____ Date: _____

“If you set goals and go after them with all the determination you can muster, your gifts will take you places that will amaze you.” —Les Brown

Commitment List

1. Weekly Check-in
2. Accountability to the group
3. Personal Fitness Minimum. (Minutes per day)
4. Hydration? (Are you drinking water?) If so how much
5. Do you feel that you are on track with your goals? _____%?

“I think goals should never be easy, they should force you to work, even if they are uncomfortable at the time.” —Michael Phelps

Step 5 – Put Your Plans in Action and Monitor Your Progress

Each night before you go to bed I'd like you to spend a few minutes planning and visualizing the following day. Evening visualization is one of the best ways to train your brain to see what should happen the next day with ease. Think about it as if an athlete would look at game film of what the next game will bring. First, review this sheet and visualize your milestones coming to life, one by one, until your overarching goal is achieved.

Sit back, relax and close your eyes and create a mental movie of the next 90-days. Infuse your vision with as much detail as you can. What's it like to have achieved your goal? What does it feel like? Can you see what it looks like? Can you hear the people around you in your minds ear and what are they saying?

Take 11 minutes each evening experiencing your goal in the theatre of your mind in rich multi-sensory realism. Next, reflect on your plans and make a to-do list for the following day. Make the items on your to-do list clear-cut, explicit, measurable, and time-bound. All items MUST be stroked off the list by day's end.

Once the 90-Day NextWorldLeader Challenge begins, get your accountability partners to send you a checkpoint memorandum each week where you can record your progress for the week. All of this documentation will let you know how you are moving forward and with true data on your movement or lack thereof. Most people are just living each day without a true agenda. You will be on plan, ahead of plan, or behind plan. If you are behind plan you will document steps to get back on track and put them in action the following week.

“You can do anything if you set goals. You just have to push yourself.” —RJ Mitte

Vision Board Power

Excellence is not an Accident. Creating a new and unique Vision Board that has photos of your goals specifically around this 90 Day NextWorldLeader Blueprint will really assist in your personal fuel and inspiration. Having a brand new vision board where you place strategic images of what you want to see from yourself after the outcome of the exercise will make it more real. See the plan visually in front of you every night before you get in bed preparing to sleep and when you wake up in the morning.

Breaking down your goals with benchmarks are tremendous keys to attaining your goals. Are you accepting mediocrity or are you demanding excellence? Are you willing to define yourself and not tolerate less?

Make your vision board and if you are brave enough to do so, tag us on it on social media.

DID YOU MAKE YOUR VISION BOARD YET?

These two sites are two places you can go to get a book or two free if you sign up.

Weekly listening time and enhancing yourself should be a bonus with your accountability partner.

Anything over 1 hour per day counts as a bonus.

“To live a fulfilled life, we need to keep creating the "what is next", of our lives. Without dreams and goals there is no living, only merely existing, and that is not why we are here.” - Mark Twain

Reward Yourself:

If you can honestly check off every day on your list where you can reward yourself, here is a framework for rewards.

- 30 Days Complete (Bronze Reward)
- 60 Days Complete (Silver Reward)
- 90 Days Complete (Gold Reward)

This area is self-explanatory. If you give yourself 3 nice milestone rewards for completing it will help in your focus to persist.

Treat yourself to the restaurant that you had planned on going to for a while or the jacket that you had your eye on. The rewards are up to you. The better the goal, the more you will stay committed to getting it done.

Weekly Check Point

(PRINT ONE OF THESE PER WEEK): Week 1

The key to making progress is making sure to document the progression of the project. We document using a weekly checkpoint process. The success factor of this is having key accountability partners to work with you on this clearly and honestly. Make sure to work with people that have your best interest in mind and or members of the community.

This CheckPoint Review is a weekly opportunity to assess your progress and reflect on what's working and what's not working on your journey toward your overarching goal. You're going to determine the specific positives and negatives that occurred over the past week.

You're going to isolate why those things occurred. And then you're going to brainstorm ways to re-engineer your plan to leverage the positives and minimize or eliminate the negatives.

Who are your accountability partners?

Identify more than one, and make sure that you push yourself as if you were training for a powerlifting event. Having the right accountability partners can help take you to additional levels. You can gain insight as you progress from an outside perspective that you appreciate and trust.

“People are not lazy, they simply have impotent goals..that is..goals that do not inspire them.” — Anthony Robbins

So you never know who you touch. You never know how or when you'll have an impact, or how important your example can be to someone else. - Denzel Washington

FINAL THOUGHTS

Let the world know how you are progressing. Being honest with yourself is the key. If you let the world know what you are doing, it helps give the added pressure for you to perform. Engaging your peer group on social media and letting them know how things are going will give additional avenues of possibility. The law of attraction works. Use your social media and let people know about the progress
